Building Permits Reach Record; School Board Launches Housing Check

Previous monthly records of Menlo Park building construction were shattered in January, which saw issuance of an all-time high of $709,500 in building permits.

The mid-winter building surge eclipsed the previous record of $597,300 in August, 1949.

City Building Inspector J. D. Steiger, said he saw nothing to prevent 1950 from becoming another record building year.

"We're off to a good start and I see no reason why building should not continue at it's present—or better than present—rate in Menlo Park," he stated.

Permits issued during January authorized construction of 53 new residences at a total value of $625,000; four duplexes at a value of $64,000; three non-residences at $19,200; a $300 non-residence alteration and a residence alteration job at $1000.

During the week ended Jan. 31, permits were issued for $252,000 worth of new dwellings, including 22 single-family homes and one duplex.

Authorization to build the duplex, at 823 Fremont street, was issued to M & K construction company which also received permits for a $7000 home at 1359 Henderson avenue, a $7000 home at 328 Hetch Hetchy way, an $8000 dwelling at 1317 Carleton avenue, a $7000 residence at 1126 Berkeley avenue, an $8000 house at 1324 Modoc avenue, an $8000 home at 1361 Madera avenue, an $8000 residence at 1330 Henderson avenue, an $8000 dwelling at 1243 Sevier avenue, an $8000 hme at 228 Hetch Hetchy way and a $7000 dwelling at 1424 Modoc avenue.

A survey of housing construction was begun by the Menlo Park elementary school district this week as basis for possible request for state funds to finance a shool building program of the future.

At the same time, the district announced tentative plans call for opening the new Hillview school at Santa Cruz and Elder avenues between Feb. 15 and 28.

Superintendent Mel Homfeld said the housing survey is being made as a means of determining school population increases in the next two years.

FUNDS APPROVED

Such information, he said, could be the basis for a request for funds from a $250,000,000 state bond issue approved by adoption of Proposition one at last November's general election.

The survey, conducted by means of questionnaires being sent to all contractors, subdividers and builders whose addresses are available, seeks information on dwelling units now under way and planned the next two years.

Two questions are asked:

1. Number of dwelling units, single and multiple, incomplete on Oct. 31, 1949.

2. Number of such units scheduled for construction since last Oct. 31 and up to Oct. 31, 1951.

School officials have asked that builders who have not received questionnaires contact the district office at Central school. Forms then will be sent.

POPULATION FIGURES

A basis for seeking school building funds is information on anticipated growth in school population, based on housing construction.

Homfeld said that opening of the Hillview school will involve creation

City Receives First 200 Young Trees For Street Planting

Two hundred trees were received this week by the Menlo Park street department in preparation for street-side planting which will begin 'as soon as possible."

The newly-arrived trees include 100 liquidambers and 100 flowering plums.

City Manager Cecil Longson said that the planting of the trees would be started when city crews complete the additions now being made to the Burgess park gym and storage bins for street paving materials which are now under construction in the civic center.

"We intend to get the program under way as soon as it's physically possible for crews to get on the job," Longson stated, adding that first trees would probably be planted in the Brookdale number 3 division.

INTEREST GROWS

The city manager explained that residents of that area were the first to contact the city with information on the kind of trees they wanted, but he added that interest in the street-side planting program is "snowballing" throughout the city.

3 Accused Drunk Drivers Arrested

Three accused drunken drivers were arrested by Menlo Park police over last weekend and on Monday.

Dick Templeton, 51, of 458 Tennyson avenue, Palo Alto was arrested at 11:20 p.m. Monday after allegedly driving erratically on El Camino Real near Partridge avenue. He was booked at the county jail as R. L. Templeton and gave his occupation as cook.

Harry Twiggs, 50, no address listed was arrested early Jan. 28 on Bayshore highway.

Troy Spencer, 40, of 518 Everett court, Palo Alto, was arrested at El Camino Real and Menlo avenue early Jan. 29.

Catholic Parish, St. Raymonds, Created in Menlo

A new Catholic parish, St. Raymond's, is now being organized in the western part of the Church of the Nativity parish, it was disclosed this week with arrival of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edwin J. Kennedy to serve as the new pastor.

Monsignor Kennedy, former chancellor and secretary to the bishop of the Honolulu diocese, is residing temporarily at St. Patrick's seminary in Menlo Park while organizing and surveying the new parish.

AREA DESCRIBED

Monsignor Kennedy said the St. Aaymond's parish, already approved but not yet in active operation, will include the area north from San Francisquito creek to Stockbridge avenue and west to the Alameda de las Pulgas.

It also will branch westerly to the vicinity of Walsh and Sandhill roads where it will adjoin the parish of the Lady of Wayside church in Woodside.

Monsignor Kennedy said his new parish generally will be the western half of the old Menlo Park parish, which has been served by the Church of the Nativity under leadership of the Rev. Thomas McKeon.

The new pastor said that at present he is doing "organizing and surveying work" leading to the time

Husband In Attempt At Rescue

Fire apparently caused by a kerosene heater explosion swept part of a small frame house in Atherton Tuesday afternoon and took the life of an 88-year-old woman.

The body of Mrs. Margaret Tyrrell was found in the charred kitchen in her home at 528 Encina avenue after her husband, William Tyrrell, was rescued by neighbors in his own attempt to save his wife.

$3000 DAMAGE

The kitchen and back porch of the one-story wooden structure was gutted and officers of the Menlo Park fire district estimated damage at $3000.

In the wreckage of the porch firemen found parts of a portable kerosene heater which, they said, may have exploded to start the blaze.

The alarm was made at 5:48 p.m. by neighbors who led Mr. Tyrrell from the flaming building as he sought to reach his wife in the kitchen through the living room.

The frame building was burning so fiercely that 15 minutes were needed to bring the fire under control and enter the burned portion, firemen said. Three truck crews fought the blaze.

Exact cause could not be determined in the initial investigation because of the gutted condition of the kitchen and porch.

Mrs. Tyrrell was a native of Ireland and had made her home in this area the last 26 years. She previously resided in San Francisco.

SERVICES TODAY

Requiem mass for Mrs. Tyrrell was scheduled at 9:30 a.m. today at the Church of the Nativity, Menlo Park, with interment in Holy Cross cemetery at Colma under direction of the Layng and Tinney Funeral Home, Redwood City.

March of Dimes Drive Extended

Because collections are "far short" of last year's figure, the March of Dimes has been extended for an additional two weeks beyond the original closing date of Jan. 31, Co-chairmen Harry Morey and Floyd Beach of Menlo Park announced.

A check of coin containers at stores and other public places showed that contributions had lagged considerably.

The goal for all San Mateo county is $60,000.

The contributions have fallen off in comparison with last year despite the fact hundreds of gifts ranging from $1 to $100 have been received by mail at county headquarters at the San Mateo chamber of commerce office.

Morey and Beach joined with County Chairman Steb Teal in expressing confidence that more gifts would be received there during the two weeks' extension.

Boys' Boxing Classes Slated To Start; Baptist Basketball League Player Injured

Boxing classes for sixth through ninth grade boys will start at Burgess park gym Feb. 7 and applicants may sign up in the program at the recreation office, Recreation Director Fred Parsons announced this week.

Coaches have been selected for the program, which will occupy two hours each Tuesday and Thursday evening, Parsons said, adding that the young boxers will compete in weight and size divisions for equal competition.

A registration fee of $2 will be charged those receiving the instruction.

Carol Jansen of Menlo School and College and George Layva are coaches.

Menlo Park's Baptist church basketball team romped to a costly 37-27 victory over the Palo Alto Baptist church team Monday night at Burgess park gym while other players of the church's Peninsula league began bowling play in Palo Alto.

Fire Engines, Men At New Fire House

Menlo Park fire district's new firehouse, number four, is now in commission with two pieces of apparatus and three men on each shift at the Valparaiso avenue and Alameda de las Pulgas station.

Fire Chief Thomas L. Cuff said that the new station is under supervision of Captain Charles Dompe, formerly at Atherton. Lieutenant Jack Glunz has been moved from headquarters on Merrill street and is in charge of one of the shifts at the new establishment.

Captain Raymond Pachaud has been named to replace Dompe in Atherton, and Lieutenant Dan Hollywood has taken over Glunz' former position at headquarters, Chief Cuff said.

The chief added that the present eligibility list has been exhausted with the appointment of five new men, bringing the districts' forces to a full complement of 37.

The newly-hired firemen include Clarence E. Courter, 1055 Curtis street, Menlo Park; David A. Snider, 512 Sacramento street, East Palo Alto; Don C. Williams, 1095 Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park; Thomas L. March, San Carlos and Leslie Coon, 1143 Crane street, Menlo Park.

For Rent, Tax Info:

SEE PAGE TWO

The Menlo Park city council soon will decide on whether to continue or abandon rent control here. The matter is of concern to all residents, since the economics of rent control are far-reaching.

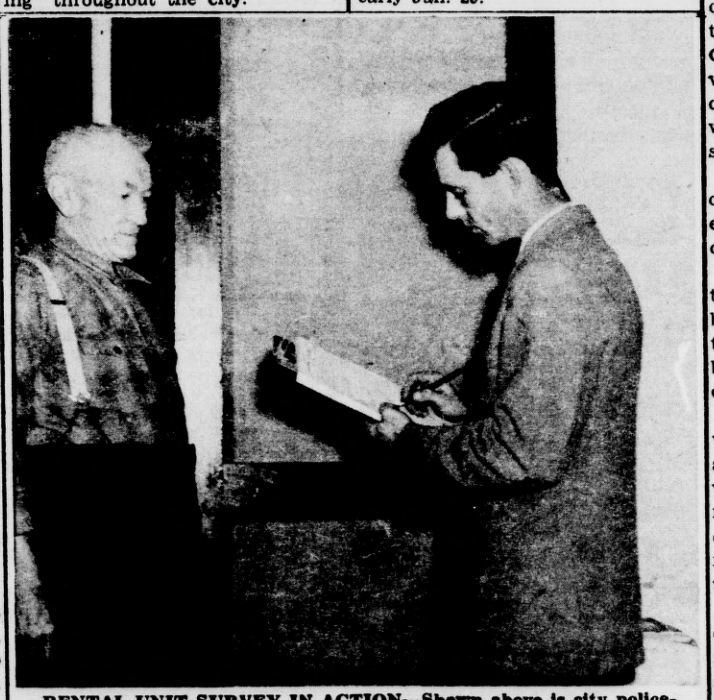

Also of prime public importance is the approaching March 15 deadline for federal income tax returns.

On the RECORDER'S editorial page of this issue you'll find information on both.

Mayor Burgess, in his column 'Your City's Business," defends and explains the city council's current survey of rental vacancies in answer to criticisms by the Veterans' Civic Committee.

On the same page there begins a series of articles, prepared by the bureau of internal revenue, on proper filing of income tax returns.

We commend both to your attention on Page 2.

Rental Vacancies Figures Received

Figures revealing the percentage of vacancies among rental units in the Menlo Park area bounded by El Camino Real, Menlo Avenue, University drive and San Francisquito creek awaited tabulation this week with completion of a house-to-house survey.

The figures, together with results of a mail survey also being conducted, will be submitted to the city council at its Feb. 14 meeting.

City Manager C. L. Longson said that the area surveyed was selected by the city council because it was the most typical, as far as distribution of rental units was concerned, in the city.

Five hundred mail survey forms were sent to property owners in the area, Longson said, and 110 of them were filled out and returned by Wednesday noon. Responses to the mail check will continue to be accepted for tabulation through the end of the week, Longson said.

A letter addressed to the city council by the Veterans' Civic committee, protesting the use of the area survey and contending that the burden of proof that a rental shortage does not exist rests with decontrol proponents, was received this week.

As We See It...

HIS WORK IS APPRECIATED

Daniel Hayes, Menlo Park city councilman since April, 1948, took part in his last council session the night of Jan. 24. Then, with all other business concluded, he submitted his resignation, explaining that by moving his residence to Atherton he became disqualified for the office.

Fellow councilmen accepted the resignation with regret, passed a resolution of appreciation for Mr. Hayes' services, directed that the resolution be formally recorded and that a copy be provided the retiring official.

We feel that this expression of appreciation is much more than a routine act or a customary gesture. Mr. Hayes for two years has been a part of a city government that has operated on a remarkably even keel, free from internal outbursts and one that has effected outstanding municipal developments.

People may not always have agreed with Mr. Hayes. Neither may they have agreed uniformly with other councilmen under our way of government.

The retired councilman never was one to say much from the podium at open council meetings. But throughout his two years of service, he has been one of the hardest working members of the council in its various tasks that all are in addition to their open sessions twice a month. Given committee assignments, he has worked at them untiringly.

We join the council in extending best wishes to a friendly and kindly man. His selfless service will be missed.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE

Announcement that the March of Dimes campaign in Menlo Park and all San Mateo county is "far short" of expectations comes as something of a surprise, not to mention disappointment.

Because contributions were lagging behind last year's figure, the county committee in charge of the polio fund drive was forced to extend the campaign beyond the original Jan. 31 deadline.

Larger contributions sent directly to March of Dimes county headquarters have been generous. Where the shortcoming lies is with the coin containers that are in virtually every store and public place.

This would be hard to believe if the facts weren't there. Certainly no more painless and no less simple a means of contributing to a good cause ever has been devised. A few odd bits of change dropped into the containers will not be missed by the donors and, if everyone participates as fully as he can afford, the March of Dimes fund will reach its goal easily.

There is no public fund that is put to a better use, more directly and more immediately than the March of Dimes when the need arises . . . and it is certain to just as it has in past years.

WISH WE'D THOUGHT OF IT

Seems we just can't keep the controversy over naming the projected south county high school out of this editorial column. Been in the last couple of weeks. But here it is again:

A neighboring daily newspaper came out unequivocally on its editorial page with the recommendation "Linden high school," and listed a series of reasons. First was that it would "fit easily into the headlines—a consideration important enough in itself to tip the scales."

By golly, it would at that. Wish we'd thought of it first. If the Sequoia high school trustees want to endear themselves to copy editors, here is their chance.

On second thought, "MP high school" also would be nice for a headline writer.

Mayor Defends Rent Check

By CHARLES P. BURGESS

Will Rogers used to say, "I see by the papers . . ."

The papers are necessarily the source of a large portion of the information that comes to us each day, and I see by last Friday's daily papers that the chairman of the "Veterans' Civic Committee" attacks the rental housing survey being made by the Menlo Park City Council before the first blank is mailed and before the first doorbell has been rung.

The city council is not required to make a survey, but can make its ruling on the basis of information submitted by both sides in the public hearing already held. To be eminently fair to all concerned in this matter on which so much emotion has been exhibited, the council determined on an independent survey which it can feel is wholly unbiased.

The identical forms used in the excellent Long Beach survey are being used by us. Further, the forms were mailed to all property owners in the area surveyed, in addition to which city employees are making door-to-door canvass, so we will have a double check.

Instead of surveying the entire city, however, a representative area of about 500 parcels of property has been chosen. This area, containing about one-fifth of the city's population outside of Stanford Village and the Veterans' hospital, represents a fair cross-section of Menlo Park.

In it are old homes and new, large homes and small, large apartments and small apartments, and substantially every other type of dwelling unit to be found in our city. The council does not believe a housing shortage can exist in all Menlo Park and not in this one area, and vice-versa.

The committee objects that "no statistics are available" as a basis for what is representative for Menlo Park. The committee, organized for the purpose of fighting rent decontrol and having "some members" in Menlo Park, according to a spokesman, cannot be expected to know what is representative for Menlo Park. However, the members of the city council are familiar in detail with our community, and are well satisfied with the area tested.

The other charges of the committee are largely indicative that this group would be satisfied with nothing short of the city council rejecting the request of the fair rent committee in toto without making any survey.

The city council has a duty under the law to determine whether or not a housing shortage exists. If we are not convinced that the surveys presented to us are unbiased either by pecuniary self-interest or the philosophy of the "welfare state," or if we are not satisfied that the methods used in the surveys are reliable, then we may choose to make such investigation as we feel is necessary to determine the facts.

We are attempting to reach a decision on a purely factual basis, and we believe the survey that we are making will enable us to do so.

The carping criticisms of the committee are in my judgement solely for the purpose of registering opposition to decontrol regardless of what the findings of the survey may be.

Early Filing of Returns Speeds Refunds on Tax Overpayments

(Editor's Note)—This is the first in a series of articles, prepared by Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth of the First California district, outlining rules and regulations to be followed in filing federal income tax returns.

The importance of filing federal income tax returns early this year should be carefully considered by all taxpayers expecting refunds. Income tax returns will be processed in the San Francisco Office.

This means that refunds on overtax payments will be received with less delay than in previous years. Persons who file early will receive their refunds promptly. The processing of a return begins as soon as filed.

The withholding slip, the Form W-2, the statement showing wages and amouts withheld, cannot be used as an income tax return.

There are three types of returns. They are, the Form 1040A, the short Form 1040, and the Long Form 1040.

Persons receiving wages subject to withholding tax are required to attach the withholding statement securely to their return.

In deciding which income tax form to use consideration should be given to the following questions:

(1) Are you married or single?

(2) How much income did you have during the year, and what was the sources of it?

(3) Are you eligible to deduct travel and reimburse expenses from your wages?

(4) How large are your non-business deductions, such as charitable contributions, interest, taxes and medical expenses?

Only persons with a gross income for the taxable year of less than $5000 consisting entirely of wages, reported on withholding statements, with not more than $100 of this amount from dividends and interest, have the privilege of filing their tax return on Form 1040A.

On election, persons receiving income in the above category may use the Form 1040. It would benefit them if their non-business deductions are more than the standard deductions allowed by the Government.

The Form 1040A is the easiest of the three types of returns to prepare. To fill it out, you merely answer the printed questions, fill in your name, marital or single status, income and exemptions, sign the return, attach to the form all withholding statements (Form W-2) and mail it to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

The tax is computed by the internal revenue bureau. If you owe any tax, you will receive a bill from the collector. If you have overpaid, you will receive a refund.

The limitation of $5000 for using the 1040A as a return applies both to single persons and married couples. If a married couple in a community property state have a combined gross income in excess of $5000 or received other wages, dividends and interest in excess of $100 they cannot use the Form 1040A as a return. They must file on the 1040, either as a short or long form return.

NSLI Conversion Advantages Are Explained

Only one World War II veteran out of four in San Mateo county who have national service life insurance in force has converted his policy to one of the permanent plans of insurance, according to Floyd D. Granger, veteran service officer.

The permanent plan types of policy offer substantial advantages over term insurance, Granger added. For example, term policies do not have cash value, nor do they carry extended or paid-up insurance provisions. In addition, term policies must be renewed every five years at a higher premium rate.

"It's something to think about, with the dividend checks starting to arrive," Granger observed. "I've noticed that when veterans take the time to come in and discuss their insurance, instead of just following the line of least resistance, they can see the long-range value to their dependents' security in switching over to a permanent plan. Quite a few have already indicated their intention to apply part of their dividend money to converting their insurance.

The 20-payment life policy is the most popular of the permanent types of NSLI, he reported. Other types, in order of popularity, are: 30-payment life, Ordinary life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60 and endowment at age 65.

Information on NSLI is available at the veterans service office, in the courthouse, Redwood City.

Merced County broke away from the original Mariposa County in 1855.

Educator Urges More Community Life for Children

Willow P-TA members last week heard Dr. Wilford M. Aikin, consultant on education, discuss the part the child plays in the community.

He urged them to bring their children in closer contact with community business, since "the central purpose of education is to lead our children to the American way of life."

In cooperation with the Ravenswood P-TA and the East Palo Alto Grange, the Willow P-TA has started a drive to gain donors for Ravenswood district blood bank. Donor cards are being issued to those who feel they can donate a pint of blood.

Mrs. Harry Caplan, president, asked that those wishing further information call her at DA 3-1104.

The treasurer's report revealed that the P-TA now has $446.09 on hand.

There were three substitutions in officers: Mrs. Fielding McDearmon replaced Mrs. Arthur Nobbs as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Raymond Garrity took Mrs. Eugene Lkeiner's place as recording secretary, while Mrs. Raymond Waldo has assumed room mother chairmanship in place of Mrs. Robert Utter.

Dr. Kenneth Brown announced that the parent study groups have been altered to include the desires of the parents who recently indicated the subjects they want in a bulletin. Next meeting will be on February 9 at Willow school kindergarten room at 8 p.m. Dr. Julius Wallner is to be moderator, discussing family living and answering questions from the parents.

SYLVIA TUPPER (above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tupper of 845 Live Oak avenue, Menlo Park, will be graduated from the Dental Nurses Training School in San Francisco on Feb. 10.

So far as is known, California's Board of Forestry, organized in 1883, is the first such State board to be created.

Stanford Schedules Fifth Bach Concert

STANFORD—A choral concert of three Bach cantatas, featuring the 56-voice university choir, the 50-piece university orchestra and 5 solo vocalists, will be presented Sunday, Feb. 5 at 4:15 p.m. in Memorial church on the Stanford campus.

The performance will be open to the public without charge and will be the fifth in a series of 12 concerts at Stanford commemorating the 200th anniversary of the death of the great German composer, Johann Sebastian Bach.

MENLO PARK RECORDER
and Gazette
Thursday, February 2 SECOND SECTION 5

TALK OVER OWN PROBLEMS—Teen-agers of this area gathered last week at the Menlo Park home of Ann Maris, RECORDER teen-age columnist, to talk over recreation activities for their age group . . . and the lack of them. Among those who took the initiative in seeking more rec programs were (left to right) Brude Tjaden, Sally Coburn, Ted Ames and Roxy Rasey.

—Menlo Camera Shop.

Teen-Agers Take Steps For More Recreation

Recently the RECORDER printed a letter from Robert Poll, a Menlo Park student at Bellarmine school in San Jose, suggesting that more teen-age recreation activity could be provided in this area.

"I have noticed there has been plenty to do for children 12 and younger," young Poll wrote. "May I ask what there has been for us teen-agers to do?"

Then, Ann Maris, the RECORDER teen-age columnist, decided there could be something done and that the best way to go about it was for teen-agers to get together and talk it over.

Consequently, Ann held an open meeting at her home at 1 Klayton drive last week and a number of boys and girls of high school age responded to take some unofficial action.

They, Ann reported, agreed that rec activities for their age group should be expanded to include more evening activities and should be given wider publicity through schools of the area.

There should be more dances and "rec" nights at recreation facilities, they agreed.

The determined young men and women were as one in feeling that complete circulation of information on rec activities through their schools would insure larger attendance and help bring together small groups that have limited programs of their own under way.

Teen-agers of this area who attended Ann's conference included Poll, Andrea Nelson and Marlene Myers of Notre Dame high school, Ted Ames, Menlo School; Bruce Tjaden, Roxy Rasey and Sally Coburn of Sequoia high school and Gavin Carr of Ballarmine.

The group agreed that all teen-agers with suggestions should be encouraged to state them in furtherance of an overall program.

Ann herself will receive such suggestions. The busy correspondent's phone number is DA 2-7154.

MENLO PARK P-TA MEMBERS TO HONOR FOUNDERS ON FEB. 8

Annual observance of Founders' day will be held by the Menlo Park Parent-Teacher association at its monthly meeting at Central school auditorium at 8 p.m. Feb. 8.

All past presidents of the Menlo Park group have been invited as honored guests. Mrs. Floyd Davidson, immediate past president, will be chairman of the evening.

A feature will be presentation of three life memberships to persons whose names will not be announced until awards are made. In previous years, no more than one such membership has been bestowed in recognition of P-TA service.

At the business session, parents will vote on whether to divide the organization into two groups representing Central and Encinal schools, and Fremont and Hillview schools.

Nominations will be received from the floor for members of a nominating committee who will name candidates for the annual election of officers this spring.

HADASSAH MEMBERS ARE GUESTS AT TEA

Mrs. Roswell Fine of East Palo Alto was hostess Wednesday night at a tea for members of the southern group of the Peninsula Chapter of Hadassah.

MP WOMEN'S CLUB TO HOLD FAMILY DINNER FEB. 7

A major event in the Menlo Park Women's club calendar . . . annual family night dinner . . . will be held at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 7 at the Presbyterian church social hall on Santa Cruz avenue.

The Menlo Park club's drama section will give a repeat presentation of a comedy sketch, "El Tora."

Sequoia's Senior ball was given Jan. 28 at the Peninsula Country club. The ballroom was decorated with millions of tiny snowflakes to blend with the theme of the evening, "Fantasy in Frost".

The highlight of the dance was the coronation of the senior queen, Margie Lageson, who was in a lovely off-the-shoulder white formal. The steps leading up to the platform were adorned with gardenias. Paul Laws and his seven-piece orchestra furnished the music for the evening.

Char Crozier's home was the setting for a party after the ball. Marge Paccioretti, John Marco, Holly Imholt, Lynn Leffner, Joan McRae, Ed Gerry, Boyd Mickley, Janet Hampton, Barbara Turner, Rollin Trouslot, Gene Dils, Jean Swenson, Ray Leuhr, and Charlotte Crozier were on hand.

Feb. 10 is the night. Yes, on Friday the tenth the Ravenswood Rec is having a grand opening with a Valentine dance. It will be a boy-ask-girl or girl-ask-boy dance and I rather imagine the dress will be sport. Doors open at 8:30 and the dance is over at midnight. As yet, a band hasn't been picked for the occasion. See ya all there?

The Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian church youth group met at the home of Bruce Tjaden Sunday evening for supper and worship service. Members who attended were:, Carol Mixter, John Gant, Bev Wilson, Norman Shiller, Lynn Colebourne, Chuck Shaffer, Joann Wild, Charles Henderson, Sandy Nelson, Barbara Brown, Don Terhune, Jim Morley, Janet Hampton, Boyd Mickley, Walter Johnson, Barbara Long, Barbara Curtis, John Lomax, Roger Ahlenius, Char Crozier, Ray Leuhr, Ted Brown and Ann Maris. Lyman Wear lead the fellowship services.

Teen of the Week

If you should happen to notice a tall, blond, well built guy with lots of stripes on his block sweater and a ready smile, then you would be gazing on Boyd Mickley, commissioner of boys' athletics at Sequoia. Boyd hails from Menlo Park and is in his last year at Sequoia. Besides his local athletic accomplishments, he ranked high in a wrestling contest. Good luck to you, Boyd, in whatever you may do.

That just about winds up the gab for the week. If you have news of your club, church or social group just get in touch with me.

In South County

Last Friday's sudden downpour certainly didn't keep loyal Stanford club members away from L'Omlette for their buffet dinner meeting. About 130 boot and raincoat-clad members turned out for the gay affair.

After a repast, a short business meeting was held with Stanford's track coach Jack Weirhauser as guest speaker. Then, informal dancing.

Incidentally, March 24 was set as the night for the club's annual formal dance . . but more about that at a later date.

Among those seen enjoying Friday's festivities were the John Twelvetrees chatting with Mary and Chet Eschen, Club President Jim Reynolds dashing in late from his trip to Denver, Becky and Harold Connable who had just returned from a sojourn at Yosemite, Anthony and Marky Ruzicka, Mary and Jim Mack, Jinx and Doug Guy and Widgett and George Grimmel who, incidentally, hosted an informal early morning breakfast after the dance.

Here from her home in Cincinnatti is Miss Elizabeth Dolle, national president of the Alumnae of the Sacred Heart Convent. In her honor, a tea will be given at an early date at the convent on Valparaiso avenue.

Among south county alumnae planning to attend are Mrs. Peter Folger, Mrs. Frank Hooper Jr., Mrs. Martin Barry, Mrs. Joseph Donohoe, Mrs. Francis Spellman and Misses Sally Fay and Margaret Williams.

Miss Dolle will be present for the flower ball to be held Feb. 21 in San Francisco for the benefit of the San Francisco College for Women.

Notes from here and there:

Feb. 8 is the night set aside by the Tom Irwin Jrs. for a cocktail party at their home in Atherton . . . recently returned from Yosemite are the Ted Lenzens with their children, Jean and Lewis. Ted, incident- was off the first of the week for Europe and plans to return home in early April . . . it will be a double fall visit from the stork for Barbara and Dick Ettinger, who are readying their nursery for twins; it was in Barbara's honor that Ann Brawner (Mrs. Harry Jr.) entertained at a luncheon and baby shower at her Atherton home last Thursday . . . tomorrow is the night the "Gay Nineties," a group of dance-minded young couples, have picked for their second dinner dance, to be held at the California Country club . . . and Feb. 11 is circled by friends of the Fred Hanssens of Palo Alto who will host a dinner party to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary; locale will be the Menlo Country club.

MRS. WILLIAM WHITE BUYS ATHERTON HOME

Mrs. William White, who has been living in Hillsborough for several years, has bought a home in Atherton and will make her home there.

Mrs. White was a resident of Atherton for many years. She owned the former Edward Hopkins estate on Oak Grove avenue, which she sold several years ago to Archbishop John J. Mitty and which is now a Retreat House for Catholic women.

Ready to Aid Blind

TO LEND HELPING HAND—Mrs. Kilbourne Breeden of Atherton is shown with Guide Dog Vallie, as the annual $50,000 fund campaign of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., opened this week to last through February. The organization provides guide dogs without cost to the blind and gives instruction in use of the dogs at its kennels near San Rafael. Mrs. Breeden will direct the campaign in the Menlo-Atherton area in her role as co-chairman of the San Mateo county drive.

A. Whitehead assisted by Mrs. Don Fowler and Mrs. Fielding McDearmon with material selected by the teachers. Mr. Janssen donated a sum at a recent Ravenswood board of trustees meeting for the purchase of the materials and chairs.

The construction is being done Saturday afternoons and Sundays at the Little theater under direction of Lewis Sayler, stage manager.

Investigating officers reported that the thief used pliers and a screwdriver to remove the furnace, parts of which were left attached to the wall.

Everyone Has Fun as Dads Rehearse For Annual "Fathers Follies" Show

"Twenty-three skidoo" and "oh, you kid" were frequently heard at Ravenswood school last Friday night at rehearsal for the annual "Father's Follies" to be presented at the school the nights of Feb. 22, 23, 24 and 25.

There was both fun and confusion as dads of the school district practiced their acts.

F'instance, Hy Zimmer assumed a Cleopatra pose with the lovely "girlies" of the chorus line: Cliff Dernier, Lou deGive, Sid Goodnow, Dick Boyer, Mason Ayer, Ralph Coleman, Bob Stadler and Claude Nelson. Others rehearsing were Deveral Andrus, Jack Denton, Paul Mezzapelle and Hy Stubbe.

Ticket agents Frank Reece and Don Walker issued tickets for the Follies over the weekend to various members of the cast. They may also be purchased at the Cooley Avenue market, the Ravenswood Hatchery, Werdein Pharmacy, and the Community Hardware in East Palo Alto and at the Avenue Food Mart in Menlo Park. Reservations may still be made by phoning DA 3-6428 or DA 2-3355.

Funeral Rites Conducted for Mrs. A. E. Hogan

Funeral services were held in the Roller and Hapgood Chapel Tuesday for Mrs. A. E. Hogan, a former resident of Menlo Park who died at her home on Emerson street in Palo Alto, last Saturday.

Paul Stinchfield, C.S., conducted the services in the chapel and read the prayers at the graveside. Pallbearers were Lincoln Howatt, Major John Bell, Kenneth MacDougall, Waldo Freeman, E. M. Rankin and Ben Winkleman. Interment was in Alta Mesa.

Mrs. Hogan was the widow of A. E. Hogan, who died some years ago. She is survived by a daughter Mrs. Elizabeth Strobeck.

Mrs. Hogan came with her family to Menlo Park in 1924. She built a home at 701 Harvard Road where she and her daughter lived until recently, when they moved to Palo Alto.

Mrs. Hogan was born in Oswego, New York and lived for some years in Chicago. She maintained her own Red Cross hut during World War I besides working with numerous Red Cross committees. She received the presidential citation for these services.

Always keenly interested in national politics and city government, Mrs. Hogan was associated with the late Governor Len Small of Illinois and with the late Clarence Darrow in many of his cases. She served on the hospital and prison boards in Illinois.

Mrs. Hogan was one of the founders and a charter member of the Palo Alto Humane Society and was an active member of the association to the day of her death.

A WARM HEARTED RESPONSE resulted when the Menlo-Atherton Girl Scout Council held a public meeting to enlist volunteer support to carry out construction, landscaping and other projects at the Girl Scout recreation area to be established this spring at Menlo Park's civic center. Among Girl Scout fathers who offered their aid were David Sullivan (right) and Louis Matas, shown being signed up by Mrs. James F. Stepp (left), Troop 68 leader, and Mrs. R. W. Hayes, Troop 89 leader.

Parents Pledge Help in Building Recreation Area at Civic Center

Parents of the Menlo-Atherton Girl Scout council have answered enthusistically an appeal for volunteer aid in building the Girl Scout recreation area projected at the Menlo Park civic center.

More than 60 parents attended a public meeting called by the council at civic center building 520 last Thursday night to hear plans for the recreation area and to pledge their participation in work.

About half the persons attending were fathers of Girl Scouts. They promised they would help.

Mrs. Donald Kennedy, council publicity chairman, said the organization is being set up on a project basis, with separate committees formed.

Milton Silverman heads a group to provide lumber for an amphitheater stage.

George Naylor is to provide a flagpole.

David Sullivan and Calvin Keith volunteered to install a lawn sprinkler system.

John Davenport agreed to provide a truck for transporting materials.

Albert Makle will direct layout work, and Louis Matas will have charge of carpentry for picnic tables and a gateway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Klein will continue the planning work they already have done.

Girl Scout troops will provide nails and shrubs.

Many other volunteers are expected to join this initial group as the project develops, Mrs. Kennedy said.

The Girl Scout area will occupy ground at the northwest corner of the city council chambers building and is expected to be open this spring.

Brownie Troop 106, under leadership of Mrs. Reid Whiting, played host to Troops 117 and 15 Wednesday at an educational program sponsored by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

Jack Luce of the company's San Francisco office showed a motion picture on telephone etiquette and conducted a question and answer period.

BETH JACOB SISTERHOOD SETS DANCE FEB. 11

The ways and means committee of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob is planning a barn dance at the Temple house in Menlo Park the evening of Feb. 11.

The event will be the third in a series of activities to raise funds for work of the sisterhood.

The party will have a "cotton and jeans" motif, according to Mrs. Herman Wendell, chairman.

Dean Weigle Plans Return to Stanford

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Dean Clifford F. Weigle of the University of Oregon school of journalism will return to Stanford next summer as associate director of the Institute for Journalistic Studies, President Wallace Sterling announced.

Dean Weigle, who joined the Stanford faculty in 1934, became dean of the Oregon school in July last year.

Upon his return to Stanford, he will divide his time between administration, teaching, and research. He has made a particular study of facsimile newspaper reproduction and of measurement techniques.

SHOPPING WITH SHIRLEY

"The grass in the distance looks greener," they say, and we've just had a good example of the fact.

Just back from week's trip to Southern California, I want to tell you about shopping down there.

It had been years since I had seen that part of the country, so while my husband attended to business—and kept the family funds out of reach—I set out to see some of the famous shops and shopping districts we've all heard about.

In Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, the Miracle Mile, La Jolla—in each I battled auto traffic, found—or paid for—a parking place, then fought through pedestrian throngs and looked at all those shouted-about stores: Bullocks, J. W. Robinson, the May Co. and all the smaller "intimate" shops, too.

From all this hard work and pavement pacing I reached the conclu-

Meet Your Public Health Agency

Maintaining public health is not like the weather—something can be done about it, and is.

In San Mateo county, problems of public health, communicable diseases, operation of community hospital and social welfare are those of the county health and welfare department.

'Public health work' might sound like a generality, unless one knows what it can and does include.

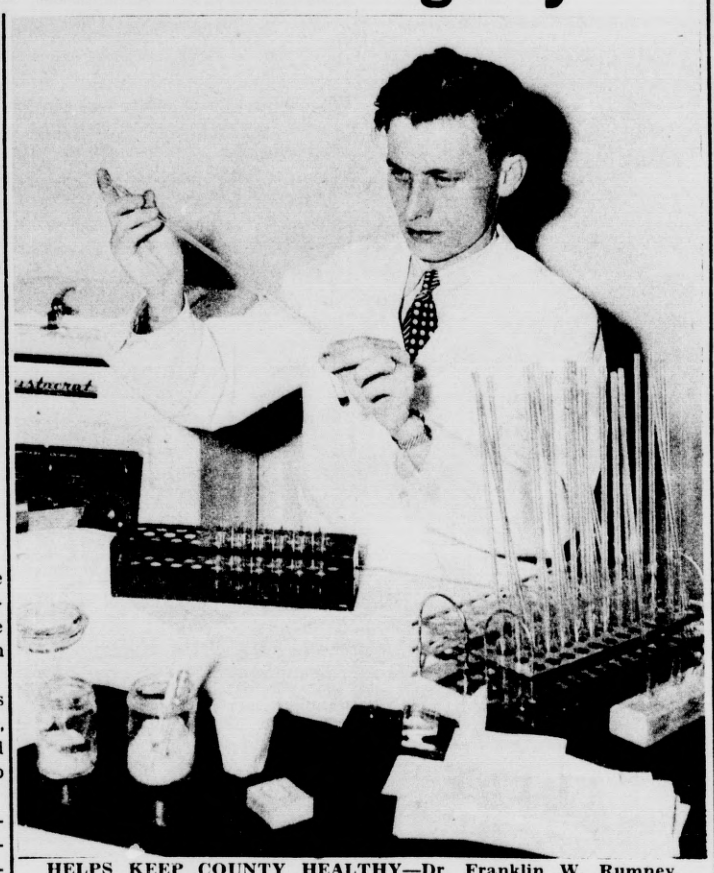

Among other things, the technicians of the county service constantly check the county's water supplies for evidence of pollution. Food supplies delivered in the county are subjected to scrutiny for disease-bearing qualities and restaurant and food handling personnel and locations are checked constantly for the maintenance of a high level of sanitation.

Sewage disposal facilities are checked for adequacy and efficiency—just another way of making sure that the county is a safe place in which to live.

Communicable disease control is another problem. Instruction, "shots", quarantine of the sick and isolation of known cases help keep the population healthy.

The health of children and mothers is safeguarded through a program of consultation and immunization.

Naturally, all this costs money. Most of the work mentioned is handled through the health division of the department, which has a budget of $288,000 or approximately one per cent of the county tax dollar for the current fiscal year.

HELPS KEEP COUNTY HEALTHY—Dr. Franklin W. Rumney, above, bacteriologist of the San Mateo county health and welfare department, is one of the scores of individuals whose work is concerned with detecting and combating diseases and conditions which menace the health of residents. —Menlo Camera Shop.

Social welfare costs more and is paid for out of another part of the budget.

Through the social welfare division, the county administers state and federal old age and blind security funds. Aid to needy children,

New Home Planned For Bakery

Plans for construction of a $38,000 store building on Santa Cruz avenue just east of the Presbyterian church, to house Mrs. Miner's Bakery, were announced this week with issuance of a building permit.

E. S. McKittrick company was named contractor for the structure, second of eight planned in the area on Santa Cruz backing onto the parking plaza. First unit, to house a Sprouse-Reitz variety store, already is under construction near the east end of the property.

SIMILAR DESIGN

The first two units will be of the same general design. Intermediate units will be laid out around a 20-foot wide walkway between the avenue and the parking plaza.

Owners of the property are Martin and Caroline Bishop Stelling of San Francisco.

Harry Miner, operator of the bakery now situated on the opposite side of Santa Cruz near Doyle street, said he will move his store into the new and larger building to provide more facilities for present customers.

Agents in the transaction were Will L. Merryman, George Naylor and Charles Andrews of Menlo Park.

OTHER BUILDING

Meantime, Merryman announced that drawings are being prepared for a 50 by 120-foot, two-unit build-the partially self-supporting blind and other blind persons is also handled through this office.

Out of county funds, the social welfare department also aids in general relief where needed if the hardship victim is ineligible for funds from another source.

Admission to the Community hospital and the San Mateo county tuberculosis sanatorium are also controlled through this office, which also handles licensing of foster homes for children and homes for the aged.

The welfare division's budget for the current year is $1,330,000, or about four and a half cents out of every county tax dollar

The health and welfare department also administers the Community hospital, which gives care to the needy sick and which operates an out-patient clinic, ambulance and emergency services and a medical education program to inform people how they can help keep themselves healthy.

Purpose of the latter program is obvious: It costs a good deal less to stay healthy than it does to get cured once you're sick.

Headquarters of the health department, which is headed by Dr. H. D. Chope, are in the courthouse in Redwood City.

The department's staff has been enlarged to keep pace with the tremendous growth of population in the county in recent years, and has become crowded into space designed to accommodate fewer offices than those which occupy it.

The health and welfare division offices are in the basement of the main building, and other offices and the laboratory are in the annexes.

Through the health and welfare department, the county has and will continue to help bring the latest weapons of science, education and sanitation to bear against man's ancient enemies—poverty, disease and helplessness.

Be Smart!

This is the classic dress style of the times. For the winter season you'll find it in sheer wools, dressweight gabardines and similar fabric that take to tailoring in a handsome way. For the spring season it is beginning to appear in moire, faille and similar fabrics of silk and rayon, and in handsome linens. It's a wonderfully flattering dress with its slim lines undisturbed by the deftly inserted fullness in deep inverted or accordian pleats. This style has a long fashion life ahead.

CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH WEEK OBSERVED

CHILDREN'S Dental Health Week will be observed here as throughout the state, on February 6-12, in an effort to reduce the great loss created by dental decay. Surveys have shown that with America's refined diets today, decay is occuring six times faster than American dentists can repair it. These same surveys show that nine out of every ten Americans are suffering from dental illness.

Sponsored by the American Dental Association, the California State Dental Association, and the local dental society, Children's Dental Health Week will seek to point out that decay can be greatly reduced by proper care of the teeth at home. Jone Pedersen, Miss California for 1949, is aiding the dental profession in the educational campaign.

She has appealed to the young people of the State with the following statement: "The people who succeed are the ones who do those little things it is sometimes easier not to do. Take your teeth for instance. Of course sometimes it seems like a bother to brush your teeth; to go to the dentist when your're supposed to, and to eat the right kind of food. But you can be sure of this—the people who take the time each day to do those things now are the people who will enjoy good health, attractiveness and popularity later. It's your health. Why not take care of it now—and be proud of your smile all the rest of your life?"

The four rules for an attractive smile, as outlined by dentists for guidance of parents and children, are:

1. Brush your teeth after each meal—or at least after breakfast and before retiring at night.
2. Eat plenty of meat, eggs, butter, cheese, fresh fruit, green vegetables, and whole grain products. Cut down on sweets.
3. Drink plenty of milk.
4. Visit the dentist regularly so he may help prevent future trouble.

While progress in dental sciences now enable members of the profession to correct dental ailments, many feel that decay could be reduced by more than 50% if the rules for dental health were more closely followed, according to Dr. Donald B. Horner, Chairman of the State Dental Health Education Committee. "Our message is one of prevention rather than repair, for repair of damage which has already been done by neglect is expensive, time consuming, and uncomfortable."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Use Practical Knowledge, Vision To Achieve Room Atmosphere

By Ertta Haley

IS THERE SOME feature in your home that annoys you, such as a dark hall, a jumbled room, a shabby bed frame or no space for books? Maybe it isn't anything like this, but something intangible such as atmosphere or style? How do you go about getting it?

Surprising though it may seem, many of these decorative problems are easily solved in many cases. It may involve changing a furniture of picture arrangement which requires no money, only knowledge. It may mean taking the old-fashioned trimmings off some of the furniture and a bit of refinishing which takes, not money, but "elbow work." It may mean constructing a shelf over a studio couch at very little cost.

The first problem is not one of how to do it, but one of what you have to do with. Look over the problem critically and think about the possibilities. See what the desired effect should be, and then it's much easier to go about getting it.

Style and atmosphere are a result of imagination, but they must be based on practical knowledge and certain basic rules. You cannot violate the principles of balance or rules of color harmony and achieve a result pleasing to the eye.

When you feel you lack imagination, study good examples and soon you'll feel yourself becoming creative. In this way you can achieve the style you want, and, at the same time, have a lot of fun.

Simple practical tricks that you do with pictures or decoration add the atmosphere and individuality that make a room or a home yours. Carry them out with neatness and dispatch and you will have created something that gives you and anyone else real pleasure.

Let Picture Arrangements Reflect Personality

It's not necessary to rush out to buy expensive originals if you like pictures in the home. People have been known to collect inexpensive prints or greeting cards that they like or which reflect a certain hobby of theirs. Groupings of several of these over a couch, above a desk, or on some bare wall reflect the personality of the owner.

Groups of pictures which go together might be pasted on a wall near a deep window without frames of their own. Colored glue tape, to match some color in the drapes or in the room itself would serve to frame each of the pictures.

Family portraits might all be framed together on a neutral background and hung above a couch. This would take care of the odd shapes and styles in which they so frequently come.

When you're preparing pictures for a group arrangement, have them all conform in some way or another. Different types of birds go together just as do prints of flowers. Charcoal sketches might be used together as would photographs of the family. All of these have something in common which would dictate their belonging to a certain group.

Framing should suit the furnishing of the room. For modern use light or black woods, or even white. For period rooms, select framing that goes pleasantly with your furniture wood.

Informal rooms may have their pictures framed with wallpaper or tape, provided this is taken from the room in which they're used.

The width of the frame depends upon the picture which is used. When selecting frames, try several different widths and woods against the picture to make the choice.

Re-Arrange Furniture For Pleasing Effects

One of the basic rules in arranging a room is that it should have a center of interest or focal point as this is sometimes expressed. When a room does not have this, you feel restless in it because attention does not become drawn to one particularly pleasing aspect of the room and cannot settle.

When the room has a fireplace, this gives a natural center of interest, and arrangements are built around this with chairs to either side of the fireplace and perhaps a table in the middle.

You don't need a fireplace, however. An interesting arrangement of furniture which invites a group of people to sit down and talk comfortably could serve just as well.

In dens, hobby room and such, the center of interest might be a hobby collection, a knick-knack shelf, a wall with a large map, or some other distinctive feature which is interest catching.

Where rooms have a lot of sunlight or a row of windows, these might be utilized for the focal point. Plants, glass collections, china or miniatures might be used on small shelves on the windows to center attention.

Even hallways can be made interesting. If dark and cheerless, induce light into them by means of wall color. Substitute glass panels for wood. Shallow wooden or glass shelves on the glass panels brighten the hall considerably if they hold plants or colorful jars on them.

Panels might also be painted a light neutral, and you could use decals appropriate to the room pasted on each panel.

If the hall or any room is rather bare and you do not want to buy any decorative objects for it, a scenic wallpaper can do the work of these things.

Avoid Clutter In Decorations.

Many rooms offend simply because there's too much in them.

Ornateness is usually to be feared more than plainness since it destroys the feeling of unity.

When you have too much pattern on furniture, you might try slipcovering it, employing plain, solid colors, with the primary interest in the texture of the fabric.

sion that they're fabulous—in fact stupendous and colossal—with rows of tremendous modern fronts and, inside, knee-deep carpets, chrome, crystal—and harried salesgirls and the same merchandise that is available right here at home.

We're home again and glad of it. And I'm more convinced than ever that it makes good sense to shop in our own Menlo Park area. I'll waste no more time and money going elsewhere, battling traffic and crowds, to buy things I can get right here from friendly people.

Spotted while shopping—with relief—around Menlo Park:

. . . Those copper molds, so handsome shining on the wall of your kitchen and useful, too, for dressing up your gelatin salads and desserts. Down in the Southland, the fanciest gift and homeware shops feature these molds with a flourish, but you can get them without fuss and fury right here at Frane's.

And while in Frane's, check their wide variety of cannister sets, and—a really sharp idea—consider their Flint knives and kitchen utensils; that's really a good point!

And when you do your weekend marketing at Menlo Square Market, pick up some more of those Spice Islands condiments to round out your selection and to give that epicurean touch to your family fare. Spice Islands seasonings are another item featured in those fanciest of Southland gift shops, but here you can pick them up while taking advantage of Menlo Square's weekend specials, for example: coffee, 69c; butter, 64c; eggs, 39c; picnic hams, 39c; and a whole group of 5c buys at the produce counter.

And here's another good idea:

After the movies these cold nights, drop in at Joel's Ice Cream store on El Camino for a snack and a warming cup of GOOD coffee. It's fun, it's friendly, it's easy to get to on the way home.

Teen-Agers' Breakfast

IN THE HUSTLE and bustle of school work and social activities, teen-agers are apt to short-change themselves on the food they eat. Their stomachs aren't going empty; but, considering between-meal snacks of candy bars and soft drinks, the kind of food they eat is apt to be off the track as far as good nutrition is concerned.

At this age, the phrase "You are what you eat" is all-important, for personality development, the capacity for work and play, as well as health, are dependent in considerable measure on good nutrition. Also, this is the time when boys and girls are forming food habits that will follow them through life. Let's consider the first meal of the day—breakfast.

By studying teen-age habits in this country, we have turned up the interesting fact that two-thirds of our teen-agers feel that everyone should have a good solid breakfast. But, in this same survey, it was discovered that thirty per cent of the boys and girls in this age group were skimping on breakfast. What causes the gap?

Consider the wide range of foods offered in this basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. Canned, dried, fresh or frozen fruits may be used at the breakfast meal.

Almost two dozen varieties of cooked and ready-to-eat cereals are available. The beverage might be cocoa, milk, or hot chocolate; the bread could be in the form of sweet rolls, hot muffins, biscuits, waffles, or pancakes.

FOR APPETITE APPEAL, a hot bread is a quick and easy treat for breakfast. This recipe for upside down oat muffins is doubly good, too, for it supplies extra nourishment in the rolled oats and the apricots. You might vary the fruit by substituting cooked peach slices, pitted prunes or apple slices for the apricots.

Upside Down Oat Muffins
(Makes 1 dozen)

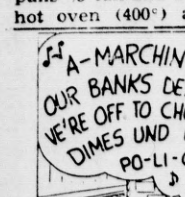

- 1 cup rolled oats
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons fat
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 4 tablespoons honey
- 12 drained cooked apricot halves

Combine rolled oats and milk; let stand five minutes. Cream together fat and sugar. Add egg and beat. Add oat mixture. Sift together flour, salt, and baking powder; add to first mixture. Stir only until mixed. In each well-greased muffin pan place one teaspoon honey and an apricot half with cut side up. Fill ⅔ full and bake in moderate oven (350-375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Turn out fruit side up. Serve hot.

Molasses Bran Muffins
(Makes 1 dozen)

- 2 cups whole bran
- ½ cup molasses
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda

Soften whole bran in molasses and milk (5 to 15 minutes). Add egg to first mixture. Sift together flour, salt, and soda. Combine with bran mixture. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°) about 20 minutes.

Oatmeal Fruit Bread
(Makes 1 large or 2 small loaves)

- ¼ cup fat
- ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg, well-beaten
- ½ cup chopped Brazil nuts, pecans or walnuts
- ½ cup cooked diced prunes
- ½ cup cooked diced apricots
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1 cup rolled oats
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon soda
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1¼ cups buttermilk or sour milk

Cream fat; add sugar gradually. Add egg to creamed mixture. Stir in nuts, prunes, apricots, orange rind and rolled oats. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk to creamed mixture. (To make sweet milk sour, add 1 tablespoon vinegar to 1¼ cups sweet milk.) Turn into greased loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches and bake in moderate oven (350°-375°) about 1 hour. Cool on rack. If desired, decorate the top of the loaves before baking with whole pitted prunes, apricots and nuts.

Corn Flake Honey Rolls
(Makes 1 dozen)

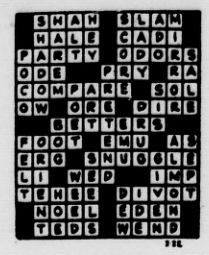

- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup fat
- ⅔ cup milk
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 3 cups corn flakes
- ⅔ cup seedless raisins
- ½ cup honey

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in fat until a coarse even texture is obtained. Add milk, stirring enough to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured board and knead about 30 seconds. Roll dough to ¼ inch thickness. Brush with melted butter. Combine slightly crushed corn flakes, raisins and honey; spread over biscuit dough, roll as for a jelly roll and cut into one-inch slices. Place slices on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°) about 15 to 20 minutes.

Brunch calls for something a little bit out of the ordinary. Next time you're making hot biscuits for this occasion, add chopped deviled ham to the dough
